

INDEX TO VOL. XLIII.

- Abinger*, Lord, his definition of undue influence, 30.
- Act*, Septennial, 18, 38—the riot, 21—the libel, 32.
- of Uniformity not applicable to the Catholic Church, 307.
- Corrupt Practices, for suppressing at election, made to suit the Mayo Committee, 328.
- Alphonso*, Blessed Rodriguez, 419.
- America*, Spanish, states of, unhappy history since their independence, 355, 364—spreading infidelity, 366—rejoiced over by Protestant missionary, ib.—different reception of the envoys of Walker, 372—at last combine against him, 378—freed of the Filibusters, 387.
- Anglicanism*, its absurdity in a foreign dress, 427.
- , a certain view of Church unity, 429.
- Anne*, Queen, desirous of placing her brother on the throne, 13—value of the writers of her age, 103.
- Arundel*, Earl of, his life by the Duke of Norfolk, 279.
- , Countess of, her life, 287.
- Ashton*, trial of, 28, 30—conduct of his judges, ib.
- Association*, for enlightening the continent concerning Anglicanism, 429—its object proselytism, 432—the line of teaching it adopts, 437—their partial success, 440—parade an apostate priest, ib.—its Tractarian supporters, 444.
- Attainders* of Russell, Sydney, and Cornish, 28—distinctions between these and the attainders by the Whigs, ib.
- Atterbury*, Bishop, treatment he met with from the Whigs, 20.
- Baptism*, Protestants consider it a form, 396—and yet quarrel about it, 397—the character it confers, 409.
- Bible*, the, probable effect of some texts from it on the mind of the Hindoos, 224.
- Bishop* of Oxford, his doctrines concerning our Blessed Lady, 437, 438—use of the Apocalyptic prophecies, 439.
- Books*, notices of, 257, 510.
- Campbell*, Lord, his "Chief Justices," 108—sees Kenyon at a trial, 114—betrays his strong bias in religious matters, 121.
- Carrera*, governor of Guatemala, 365.
- Cartridges*, given to the Hindoos, 225.
- Catherine*, Saint, of Bologna, 418.
- Catolics*, penalties enacted against them by the Whigs, 27.
- Cicero* on the religious systems of his country, 465.
- Catholics* in India oppressed by the East India Company, 227—confirmation of this by Sir Charles Napier, 229—account of their numbers, and provision made for them, 230—treatment they meet in Holland, 274—persecution of them in England under Elizabeth, 276, 279.
- Carty*, George, gallant defence of Castillo Viejo, 386.
- Chamorro*, Don Fruto, civil war in Nicaragua under him, 368.
- Charles* Edward, Prince, his proclamation, 26.
- , Saint, of Borromeo, 417.
- Christianity*, a sacramental religion, 401—a practical as well as spiritual religion, 403.
- Christian* Remembrancer, the, 432—extract from, 433.
- Christianity*, condition of the world at its approach, 456.
- Church*, Catholic, her unity, 172—her mode of dealing with those without her pale, 174—draws in her converts one by one, 200—her power and presence to speak to those who seek her, 205—statistics of in India, 230—never re-administers baptism, 289—Protestants will not fix up to what point they are bound by her authority, 298—questions as to when her authority fell into abeyance, 299—tolerant in matters of discipline, 307—her mode of instructing converts, 313—her enemies always ready to interfere in disputes amongst her members, 322.
- , Catholic, public opinion concerning it formerly, 392—and now, 393—considered to be a system of formalism, 395—upon what grounds, 401—harmony of its sacramental system, 407—her teaching leads up to Christ, 410—careful preparation of her people to receive the sacraments, 414—her power over the human soul, 415—devotional literature, ib.—her saints the fairest exponents of her system, 417—the wealth she has supplied to her enemies, ib.
- of England, has a character peculiar and different from dissenting communities, 175—is simply a condition of things, 176—in what sense she could be united to the Catholic Church, 176—how she has ministered to the Church, 180—parties within her, 182—Evangelicals, 183—Tractarians, 185—nature of the disagreements in her body, 307.
- of England, opinions entertained by the Anglican party, 430—and their present proceedings, 436.
- Clerk*, Lord Justice, his conduct of the trial of Madeleine Smith, 136, 138, 139, 140, 142, 150, 156, 167.
- Coke* declares the kingdom of England an absolute monarchy, 3.

- Committee*, Mayo, the, its close connection with Exeter Hall, 523—attacks Dr. McHale, 524—how composed, 525—opening the case by their counsel, 527—examination before them of Prendergast and Burke, 534—examination before them of the Archbishop of Tuam, 543—are afraid to carry it on, 550—in spite of it ureat Mr. Moore, ib.
- Commons*, House of, its constitution, 2—altered by the Septennial Act, 18.
- , House of, after the Revolution, the aristocracy predominated in it, 33—corruption in it after the Revolution, 34.
- Company*, East India, its dealings with Catholics, 227, 230—niggardliness to the chaplains now going out, 233.
- Cornish*, his attainder, 28.
- Counsel* for Colonel Higgins' petition, 526, 527—his definition of conspiracy, ib.—how he bolstered up his case, 532—attempts to bully the Archbishop, 543.
- Converts* to the Catholic Church, charges against them, 289—do not believe themselves to be leaving a true church, 291.
- , peculiar case of, 434.
- Conway*, Rev. Father, his conduct at Colonel Higgins' election, 534—Prendergast's evidence against him, 535—Burke's evidence against him, 535—evidence of Mr. French against him, 536—contradicted by Mr. Martin, ib.—insulted for urging voters to come to Mass, 537.
- Costa Rica*, 365, 366.
- , Rica, the state of, refuses to receive the envoys of Walker, 372—character of her government and people, ib.—takes up arms against Walker, 373—is defeated in Rivas, 374—120 of them seize the Transit steamers, 382—their successes, 384—their final triumph, 387—fresh danger, 389.
- Crabbe*, his poetry, 102.
- Cresay*, Professor, his rise and progress of the constitution, 2, 4, 13.
- Cumberland*, Duke of, the butcher, 25.
- Dacres*, Anne, countess of Arundel, her life, 286.
- De Foe*, 83, 105.
- Denison*, Archdeacon, 191.
- Dollinger*, his Heathenism and Judaism, 454—what the volume contains, 457, 464, 469—omissions, 470.
- Elizabeth*, Queen, her offer to Earl of Arundel, 284.
- Ellenborough*, Lord, 116—his brief in the case of Warren Hastings, 118—anecdotes of, 120, 122 his death, 124.
- England*, importance of her conversion, 177—must be spontaneous in the people, ib.—difficulties from the character of the people, 178—from the small means, 179—grounds of hope, 180—her Government of India, 220, 221—has not endeavoured to convert the Natives, 222—has oppressed the Native Catholics, 227.
- Erskine*, Captain, English Commander at Greytown applied to, to resist seizure of Transit Steamers, 583—refuses, 584.
- Evangelicals*, originators of the party of, 183—difference between them and those of the present day, 184.
- Faber*, Rev. Father, his eminent services to religion, 235—character of his writings, 236—requisites which should be possessed by his critics, 237—his last work, the Creator and the Creature, 238—its style, 239—plan and intention, 239—objections, 240.
- Fennelly*, Dr., his account of the Catholics in India, 227.
- Fenwick*, Sir J., his attainder, 11.
- Fielting*, the Novellist, 84.
- Formalism*, definition of the word, 396—may be fairly charged against Protestants, 396—in the case of Baptism, ib.—of Church Government, 398—in the instance of the Quakers, 400—grounds on which it is charged against the Catholic Church, 401—disproved, 414, 415, 417.
- Gentry*, Catholic, left in no Protestant country except England, 273, 277—subsisted in Ireland, 274.
- George*, the 1st. King, disaffection in his reign, 24.
- , II., cruelties inflicted on the Highlanders in his reign, 24—compared with those of Jeffreys, 25.
- Goldsmith*, Oliver, 85, 88—his want of prudence, 89—contradictions of character, 90—his conversation, 94—his literary talent, 95—his Vicar of Wakefield, 97—and other works, 99—variety of his subjects, 101—his poems, 102.
- Gorham*, Mr., his case, 188.
- Government*, of the Church, Protestant opinion as concerning, 398.
- Greek and Roman paganism*, 450—their relation to Christianity, 451.
- Griffin*, Mr., his insolence to Father Conway, 537.
- Guatemala*, 365.
- Hamilton*, Dr., 445.
- Hampden*, Dr., his consecration, 188.
- Hellenic races*, their mythological system, 458—mysteries, 459—philosophy, 461.
- Higgins*, Colonel, had in 1852 applied for the support of the clergy, 330—what his case really amounted to, 331—his voters kept locked up on Sundays, 337—makes no complaint to Archbishop of what he afterwards charges, 340—he and his supporters chose to appeal to Exeter Hall, rather than to a Catholic Archbishop, 345—great promoters of Exeter Hall policy, 351.
- Highlanders*, the cruelties committed upon them in 1745, 24.
- Hippolytus*, 455.
- Hindoo*, view they must take of English religion, 224.
- Holland*, treatment of Catholics in, 274.
- Holt* Justice, his disgraceful conduct, 30.
- Howard*, Philip, Earl of Arundel, his birth, 279—conversion, ib.—his letter to the Queen, 280—his arrest, ib.—sufferings in his prison, 281—his illness suspected to arise from poison, 283—interview between him and the Lieutenant, 284—offer made to him by the Queen, ib.
- Humanity*, the Sacred, 407.
- India*, what has happened there a lesson to us, 211.
- Indians*, the, of Nicaragua, 362—contrast between them and those of North America, ib.
- Influence*, undue, charge of, 329.
- Italians*, the, with what sentiments they must have learnt our Indian reverses, 229.
- Jacobi es*, sincere and insincere, 16.
- James*, II., King, 6.
- Johnson*, Dr., his kindness to Goldsmith, 93—a genuine moralist, 97.
- Jurisprudence*, Scottish, permits the examination of the accused, 156—effect of the verdict "Not Proven," 170.

Juries, prejudiced against Catholics, 478, 508.

Kenyon, Lord, his career, 109—legal studies, 110—is called to the Bar, 111—is promoted by Thurlow, 112—is made Chief Justice, 113—his death, 115—anecdotes of, 116.

Lardinos, Indian half castes of Nicaragua, 362.

L'Angelier, letters found after his death, 157—himself an eater of arsenic, 164.

Leighton, Archbishop, his writings, 416.

Liberty, far more a reality in Catholic than Protestant times, 2—what it really gained by the Rebellion, 5—the reign of Charles, II. represented as an era of, 7.

Literature, anxious period for, 86—ascetic, Catholic, 416.

Macaulay, his opinions upon English history, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 26, 28, 30.

M'Hale, Archbishop, 330—his evidence on trial of Rev. Father Ryan, 340—his examination before the committee, 343.

M'Laughlan, gives evidence against F. Ryan, 338—shaken in cross-examination, ib.—cross-examination omitted in "Times," ib.

Madeline, Smith, singularity of her story, 129, 131—supposed religious character of the parties, 132, 144—progress of the intrigue, ib.—examination of the evidence, 137—whether L'Angelier was ever at Blythwood Square, 140—theories upon the probability of her guilt, 145—her letters improperly published, 146, 150—her different fate if she had been Catholic, 152.

—, Smith unfavourable to her in suppressing L'Angelier's letters, 156—and of the Lord Advocate's speech, 158—medical evidence incorrect, 160—probability that she had bought arsenic for her own use, 163—her excuses for buying poison, 168—effect of the verdict, 170.

Magna Charta, by whom obtained, 2.

Mahon, Lord, his History of England, references to, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22—his partiality, 24, 26, 45.

Margaret, St., of Cortona, 421.

Maria, Blessed Vittoria Fomari 419.

Marlborough, Duke of, his crooked policy, 10, 13, 14, 19.

Martin, Mr. his evidence in support of F. Conway, 336.

Moore, Mr., unfairly unsated, 351.

Mora, Costa Rican General, obliged to retreat, 374—endeavours to close the transit route, 380—seizes the Lake Steamers, 384—holds a council of war, ib.

Napier, Sir Charles, his statement to Cardinal Wiseman, 229.

Nicaragua, republic of, the country, 359—population, 361—injury done to it by an English comp d'état, 363—persecutes the Church, 366—Walker invited into it, 367—civil war there under Chamorro, 368—Transit Company introduce Walker to Granada, 370.

Norfolk, Duke of, his life of Lord Arundel, 277—criticised by the Athenæum, ib.

O'Quigley, Father, his execution, 29.

Oratory, the London, 235.

Oude, annexation of, probable cause of the Bengal revolution, 221.

Oxford University, state of religious parties there, 199.

Parliaments after the revolution, their tyranny, 6.

Peerage Bill, 39.

—, the, its servility during the time of Walpole, 39.

Pelham, Duke of Newcastle, 39.

Perry, Miss, her evidence, 134.

Persecution of Catholics under Elizabeth, 276, 279.

Philip, Saint, Neri, 420.

Philippa, Ambrose Lisle, his pamphlet, 172—mis-statement, 196—account of Tractarian doings, 198—repudiates individual conversions, 200—harm done by his opinions, 203.

Philo, his writings, 466.

Plato on the religion of his countrymen, 462.

Poisons, medical evidence concerning them very uncertain, 160.

Priest, an apostate, paraded by Protestants, 440.

Priests of different rites saying Mass at Rome, 306.

—, Irish, charged with conspiracy by Colonel Higgins, 326—their right to use their influence in the Mayo election, 331—no evidence of conspiracy, ib.—evidence in favour of them, 341—other absurd charges against them, 341—did in fact take an active interest against as formerly for Colonel Higgins, 353—their conduct only subject to their spiritual superiors, ib.

Proselytism by Anglicans abroad, 435.

Protestantism in England chiefly kingeraft, 275.

Protestants charged with formalism, 412, 425.

Pusey, Dr., 446—his reconstructed work, 320.

Quakers, the, have been praised for the consistency of their religion, 399—their formalism, 400.

Qualification for the House of Commons, 34.

Rationalism, 182—in Oxford, 199.

Register, the, account of cross-examination of witnesses omitted in Times, 338—testimony to the result of Dr. M'Hale's examination 350—their opinion of the unsating of Mr. Moore, 351.

Review, Westminster, the, 183.

Religions, ancient, their relations to Christianity, 451.

Revolution, Bengal, what were its causes, 210.

—, the, carried by fraud and upheld by force, 8—destroyed the rights of the people, 9—the bulk of the nation opposed to it, 15, 22, 23—after it the impressment of seamen declared lawful, 32—had the effect of embroiling the country in wars, 41—and perpetuating a standing army, 42.

Reynolds, Rev. Father, utterly unfounded charge against him made by the Mayo Committee, 332.

Richardson, the novelist, 84.

Rivas, President, 371—removes the seat of government in Nicaragua, 377.

Runeberg, Johan Ludvig, Swedish poet, 63—his poetry, 64.

Rour, Abbe, his action against the Cardinal, 476—remarks of the press thereon, 480—remarks of the Judges in the court of Queen's Bench, 502.

Ryan, Rev. Father, charged with violence at election, 313, 338—charged with denunciations at altar, 338—reasons for disbelieving the charge, 340.

- Sacraments* the, their nature and purpose, 403
—their institution by Christ, 404—not only signs, but instruments of grace, 405—Protestants degrade them, 406, 411—attach us to the Humanity of our Lord, 407—the character they confer, 408.
- Saints*, Charles Borromeo, 417—Catherine of Bologna, 418—Alphonso Rodriguez, 419—Maria Fornari, ib.—Philip Neri, 420—Margaret of Cortona, 421—Francis Xavier, 422.
- Saints* the, of the Catholic Church, 417.
- Salazar*, Don Mariano, lends help to Walker, 369—is put to death by him, 377.
- Salvation*, easy to believers, 217—question as to the number of those who obtain it, 253.
- San Francisco*, its moral condition, 369.
- Scandinavia*, its poetry, 51.
- Schools*, Catholic, in India, Catholic soldiers obliged to withdraw their children, 252.
- Sins*, motives for their mutiny, 215—impossible to believe their hatred of us of long standing, 216—instances in other times and nations of equally cruel fury, 217—Inquiry into the motives of their rebellion, 220—raised a religious war cry, 222—the greased cartridge the final pretext, 225.
- Sheehy*, Duke of, 14.
- Shippin*, the Jacobite, 17.
- Sickness*, its efficacy towards salvation, 254.
- Society*, English, characteristics of, 181—tending in two opposite directions, 182.
- , the Irish Church Missions, its last report, 323.
- Soldiers*, their training an education, 216—Catholic, injustice in their promotion, 232.
- Squier*, Mr., his mission to the Nicaraguans, 363.
- Sterne*, 85.
- Taylor* Jeremy, his writings, 416.
- Tegner*, Esaias, his life, 52—introduces the true school of Swedish poetry, 55—is made Bishop, 56—dies, ib.—extracts from his works, 57.
- Tenterden*, Lord, his birth and education, 124—his promotion, 127—and death, 128.
- Times* newspaper, the, omits the cross-examination of witnesses against the Irish priests, 339, 340—their untruth and malice in commenting upon Dr. M'Hale's evidence, 350—copied into other papers, ib.
- Tractarians*, 185—their leading principle, the admission of a Church, 187—baffled by the election of Dr. Hampden, 188—in the Baptistical question, 188—divide into two parties, 188—one headed by the Guardian, ib.—one by the Union, ib.—progress of this latter, 190—its downfall, 193—they have had no national success, 197—exhortation to them, 204.
- Transit* Company, American, their dishonesty to the Government of Nicaragua, 370—treacherous assistance to Walker to conquer it, ib.—is plundered by him, 374.
- Tuam*, Archbishop of, 330, 340, 343—his examination before the Committee, 34—real conduct in the election, 352.
- Union* Newspaper, the head of a Tractarian party, 189—has given up the test it at first proposed, 190—its present tactics, 193—Anglo-Continental Association commended to the notice of its editors, 444—its present tone, 447.
- , the London Church, 198.
- United States* of America, 356—their unjust annexations, 358—advances to the Government of Nicaragua, 364—support Walker, 375.
- Unity* of the Catholic Church attacked, 294, 305.
- Vane*, swore to be revenged on Wentworth, 5.
- Vice*, the, in Christian capitals compared, 309.
- Virgin*, the Blessed, prayers to her, 314.
- Voters*, Irish county, their peculiar position, 335, 351.
- Walker*, William, invited into Nicaragua, 367—his youth, 368—goes to San Francisco, ib.—his first filibustering, 369—his excursion to Nicaragua, ib.—attack upon Rivas, ib.—enters Granada by the treachery of an American company, 370—is named Commander-in-Chief, 371—shoots the ministers, ib.—offers grants to settlers, ib.—sends a plenipotentiary to Washington, ib.—who is warned off, ib.—invades Costa Rica, 373—is defeated, ib.—but establishes himself, 374—and robs the Transit Company, ib.—receives large reinforcements, 375—is recognised by President Pierce, 376—is declared President of Nicaragua, 377—is attacked by the South American States, under Byron Cole, 378—evacuates and destroys Granada, 381—occupies Rivas, 382—his men begin to desert, 385—attacks Castillo Vigo, 386—capitulates and is sent home, 387—his cause identified with the success of slavery, 390.
- Wallin*, John Olof, Swedish Poet, 67—extracts from his poetry, 69.
- Walpole*, his conduct when out of office, 17—his plunder of the Catholics, 21—his conductors in corruption, 36—his contest with his brother-in-law Townsend, 37—cause of his fall, 44—he intrigues with the Pretender, 47—charges against him, 48.
- Whigs*, the, their conspiracies against the Crown, 6, 9, 18.—Government of Ireland and Scotland, 9—prepared to resist the will of the nation at the demise of Anne, 15—proceed to crush their opponents, 19—their oppression of the Press, 31—their financial schemes, 42.
- White*, Blanco, 443.
- William*, III., King, the results of his rule in Ireland, 9—surrounded by traitors, 10—judicial atrocities committed under him, 20.
- Wiseman*, Cardinal, extract from his discourse, 212—comparison between the cases of India and Italy, ib.
- , Cardinal, actions against, 480.
- Wotsey*, Cardinal, 2.
- Woodgate*, Mr., his works on Secessions, 287—his charges against converts, 289—ignores the answers of his antagonists, 294—denies the Unity of the Church, real or possible, ib.—alleges that God has given precepts man cannot obey, 295—considers our Lord's promise to His Church dependant on conditions, 297, 300—describes the Church as consisting of three branches, 301, 315—considers her authority as in abeyance, 302—deprecates the calling of a general council, 304—denies the Unity of the Catholic Church, 305—lectures the Church for not casting out sinners, 308—excuses the Church of England for the same, ib.—charges disingenuous teaching of converts, 311—general line of argument, 315—its character, 319—its unfairness, 321.
- Xatruch*, General, 385.
- Xavier*, St. Francis, 422.

